

Welcome to the Harmony Garden

Created by Erika and Elizabeth Herman, Teaneck residents and students of the Loomis Chaffee School in Windsor, CT. This project was made possible by a Norton Fellowship Grant from Loomis Chaffee.

For this project we used recycled and natural materials to make musical instruments, combining our love of music and our passion for sustainable living.

As you travel through the garden, scan other QR codes to learn about each instrument, how we made it, what materials we used and how to make the best sound.

We would like to thank the following people and groups for their generous assistance in the creation of this project:

- Alexa Marques (Executive Director of the Teaneck Creek Conservancy) for facilitating our partnership with the Conservancy
- James Musto III (Percussionist) for helping plan and create the instruments
- Eric LaForest and Molly Pond (Director and Associate Director of the Norton Family Center for the Common Good at The Loomis Chaffee School) for selecting us for this grant, for helping us realize our plan, and for guiding us through any roadblocks
- Heide Ilgenfritz and John Herman (our parents) for helping us with every aspect of the project
- Anh Nguyen For creating our logo
